

12 DAYS of BOOKS: WINTER BOOKLIST

As the days get colder and the nights get longer, winter is the perfect time to grab your young children and cuddle up over a good book. With help from our friends at Scholastic and All About Books, we've curated a perfect list for doing just that.

Warm up with Stone Soup or count down to the last marshmallow for your cocoa. Watch as the moon stays up till morning or catch falling stars. Play inside with everyday objects or bundle up and head out into the snow.

There are dozens of ways to bond with your little ones across this 12 Days of Books. Make your own moments that matter this winter.

A Box Can Be Many Things
by Dana Meachen Rau

What Will We Build Today?
by Katherine Durgin-Bruce

Stone Soup retold by Jon J. Muth

Red Shoes by Karen English

Goodnight Moon by Margaret Wise Brown

Day Time and Night Time by Chris Epp

— SCHOLASTIC —

The Big Umbrella by Amy June Bates

On the Night You Were Born
by Nancy Tillman

When the Snow Comes
by Mary Lonsdale

The Last Marshmallow by Grace Lin

A Loud Winter's Nap by Katie Hudson

Little Night by Yuyi Morales

— ALL ABOUT BOOKS —

